1.3 Key commitments: programming

Key commitment delivery	YES	NO
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Output typically comprises 70% music and 30% speech in daytime
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> News, discussion, interviews, information and advice programming of relevance to the target community features daily. Gospel shows, Asian shows and other specialist programmes feature discussion and interviews on issues specific to the listeners of that output. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The music is predominantly of black origin. Some programmes include a mixed genre of music of black origin and others will specialise in playing particular genres including, for example: bhangra, drum & bass, roots reggae, reggae dancehall, reggae lovers rock/revival, funk, northern soul, gospel, hip hop, jazz, rhythm & blues, garage. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Speech output is mostly English; however other languages occasionally feature, for example: Asian community languages, African languages and Eastern European languages including Romanian. (The range of language groups served may change over the term of the licence.) 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service typically broadcasts live output for eight hours a day. 	✓

1.4 Key commitments: Social gain objectives

Key commitment delivery	YES	NO
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service has a particular focus on black and ethnic minority communities, together with other disadvantaged groups. Research has identified barriers to participation in mainstream services within local communities and the provision of a community-based radio service is seen as a mechanism to help overcome this. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Programming for the target audiences specialises in music of black origin, culturally sensitive information and advice that is not available on mainstream radio, community features and programming in community languages. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service facilitates this where practicable throughout its output. Some programmes are designed specifically with this objective in mind. Such programming specialises in interacting with key local agencies, inviting them to come on air and participate in live discussions. Listeners are encouraged to phone in, write, email or text questions to studio guests. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service carries specialist programmes for the Asian and 	✓

Christian communities. These encourage dialogue with listeners and studio guests.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Information is posted on the service's web-site and social media sites. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> GFM has developed its radio production training with the support of the Bristol-based Centre for Employment and Enterprise Development (CEED), an accredited media-training centre. The service intends to build on this partnership throughout the licence period, developing local training expertise and moving towards the employment of a full-time training manager. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The training programme provides a gateway for new volunteers to contribute to output and focuses on the development of wider media and ICT skills for employment. Training courses give priority to young unemployed people and the provision of work experience opportunities. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Alongside accredited training courses, the service also provides basic 'taster' sessions for new volunteers along with outreach training in conjunction with community and voluntary organisations as well as with local schools and colleges. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Presenters and volunteers are recruited from the target communities. This helps ensure that GFM is able to reflect these communities and builds on links with black, ethnic minority and disadvantaged groups. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Through community information and participation programmes, the service promotes better understanding of the issues and concerns of the target communities and contributes to strengthening links among local community organisations and between community organisations and statutory agencies. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service is committed to regular community consultation including an annual general meeting open to the public. These consultative events further assist the service in promoting better understanding of the community. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service provides information about local services and amenities and assists in facilitating access by the target communities to local services. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service contributes to local development by empowering the community through involving it in decision-making, providing a voice, facilitating community consultation on local regeneration and by carrying information and advice relating to social enterprises. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service assists in promoting local employment, training and work experience opportunities. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service promotes the inclusion of black and ethnic minorities as well as other disadvantaged groups by challenging inequalities and promoting equality of opportunity, and by providing better access to and dissemination of information. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service contributes to local cultural and linguistic diversity by carrying programming in community languages, and by providing an outlet for cultural and artistic expression and the development of local talent. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service promotes volunteering in its own operations and provides the voluntary sector with a medium to promote themselves and events to the target communities. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> GFM recruits volunteers and presenters from the target community. Over the duration of the licence, GFM intends to expand the range of such opportunities and will promote their availability on-air, through 	✓ the local press and informal community networks. It also has direct contact with schools, colleges and community organisations.

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service prides itself on being inclusive to the community it serves and requests feedback from its listeners on a regular basis. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Every member of the target community has the opportunity to become a member of the management committee. When a person expresses a desire to become a GFM volunteer and confirms their support of GFM's aim and objectives, they will be offered membership. They can then vote on all matters relating to GFM and can be nominated onto the management committee by another member of the GFM family at the AGM. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The service holds an annual general meeting at which a report and audited accounts will be presented. Members of the whole local community are invited via the local newspaper, public notices on community notice boards and over air on the station. The service intends to ensure that it remains inclusive and accountable to all its stakeholders. It will post its annual report on its website. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> GFM encourages listener feedback concerning its service, inviting suggestions as to and how it might be developed in the future. 	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Members of the community have opportunities to give feedback to the management of the service. This is through public meetings, face to face meetings with volunteers / presenters, via email, phone, text or email 	✓

1.5 Volunteer inputs

Please provide details of the contribution made by volunteers to the station and its operation of the station, such as:

- The approximate number of hours worked on average per volunteer per week.
- Any other information to help Ofcom understand the input of volunteers to the station.

- GFM volunteers, research, edit, manage their time and present the programmes themselves in accordance with GFM volunteers & presenters agreement. On completion of training for new volunteers, support is gradually reduced after each broadcast. The volunteer is actively encouraged to do all the aforementioned, thus ensuring there is ownership and helps to build the person confidence and self esteem. The board prides itself on developing volunteers to “have their say” and take ownership and become fully part of the GFM family. The board strives to ensure each person brings his or hers personality to the airwaves and expresses themselves accordingly, this the board believes would not happen if volunteers were not allowed to have their in put in how GFM is managed and how each person present their programme, being a member of the GFM family in Gloucester is something to be proud of.

1.6 Significant achievements

- The significant achievement in 2013 was being awarded the outstanding contribution to the community award at last year Black History Month celebration event which was attended by the Mayor of Gloucester and numerous dignitaries from Gloucestershire, the event was well attended
- Being the chosen radio station by Gloucester City Homes, the organiser of Street Athletics to advertise and coordinate interviews with Linford Christie MBE. The event was a great success and those that won the heats in Gloucester went onto to compete in the grand final of Street Athletics in Manchester.
- Securing a grant from the police commissions grant in Gloucester to deliver accredited radio production training to volunteers and those that are underemployed
- We are please to have provided a platform for 4 of our young volunteer to help build up confidence and self esteem before leaving GFM to start of their university degrees.
- Continuing to broadcast to the Citizens of Gloucester is without doubt GFM most significant achievement, this would not have happened without the financial support of our listeners

1.7 Significant difficulties

Do you wish this section to be kept confidential?	YES	NO
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • New owners of Trust Centre increasing the rent to an amount we believe is not reasonable when compared to other properties that rent office space in Gloucester. The new owners gave GFM notice to leave by a specific date when GFM had rent areas. The new owners are private owners and it appears do not have a community ethos approach that GFM has worked within since broadcasting in The Trust Centre began in October 2000, the approach appear to be business is business, it has been difficult for the board and volunteers working in the change of environment • Shortage of volunteers, GFM has been in a unique position of volunteers gaining life long skills required for employment and then securing employment. Whilst this reflect well on GFM it has been difficult getting new volunteers with the desire and commitment, in particularly those who are unemployed. Government training scheme now means presenters who are unemployed will not be able to volunteer on GFM when they are instructed to attend government training schemes. Sometime at short notice volunteers would have to attend training leaving us with little or no time to source cover for the programme. This has had effect on the amount of advertising generated. • Raising the money to meet the ever increasing daily running cost to keeping GFM on air. GFM need a dedicated grant fundraising person to write and submit funding application. GFM also needs a radio sales person to sell GFM cheap rates and benefits of advertising on a radio station that is 100% local. • GFM has one part time employee, a community link coordinator, the role is to ensure key community commitments are met, the role is also dependedant on the employee securing grants to fund the post and carry out the enormous task of interacting with key organaition in Gloucester, and this is a significant difficulty. 		✓
